
THE STORY SO FAR...

In a story that transcends time and place, there is no beginning or end. Events are linked by the threads of consequence, woven into the fabric of history. But since this is a story that must be told in order to save our kind, let us proceed...

Temozarela, a fallen angel, has been entombed in the Domas Porada since the time of the Crusades and the Inquisition. The Domas Porada is a mystical monolith hidden deep inside a monastery. Temozarela was trapped there by Betheal Gavarre, a priest of the Inquisition who forsook God in order to take his revenge on Temozarela. Betheal's rage has transformed him into a non-corporeal demon called "Belial." He is intent on making Temozarela pay for his misdeeds for all time.

After hundreds of years, the Domas Porada is rediscovered by the Catholic Church at Stonetale Abbey in the Old West, though they have now forgotten its purpose. Father Pietro acts on behalf of the Vatican to unravel the mystery. He recruits young Father Ivan Isaacs to help decipher the inscriptions on the Domas Porada.

Ivan is in the midst of a crisis of faith of his own; he is in love with his adoptive sister Gena, and has just returned from years in study at the seminary to the family ranch. Called away by duty once again, Ivan joins the team of academics working on the Domas Porada and throws himself into his work.

Ivan's brilliance and devotion lead the team to the correct translation of the text on the Domas Porada. Ivan realizes too late that he's just found the key to releasing Temozarela, the fallen angel, and that Father Pietro has been working toward this release the whole time. Even worse, Pietro sacrifices Gena's life in front of Ivan to free him from his earthly bonds of love, and to convince Ivan to complete the task of freeing Temozarela. Ivan's rage is triggered by Gena's death, and as he rails at God for his suffering, he opens the Domas Porada.

With one misplaced act of rage, Ivan Isaacs has joined the battle between those who have rejected God. He now lives in a world with no absolutes, where "Good" and "Evil" are relative terms, and where the battle lines cross centuries, not countries. The worst is yet to come for the Priest...

THE CAST OF CHARACTERS

Ivan Isaacs is a young priest with a passion for ancient cultures. An orphan, he was adopted by rancher Jacob Isaacs when he was just a young boy as companionship for his daughter, Gena. When it became apparent to Jacob that Gena and Ivan were becoming too involved as teenagers, Ivan was sent off to a seminary to study for the priesthood. Ivan turned out to be a brilliant scholar–an avid student of primitive religions and cultures. Now, upon Jacob's death seven years later, Ivan returns to the family ranch as a priest. Just as he is about to be faced with his feelings for Gena again, he is recruited to help solve the mystery of the Domas Porada, a mythical sarcophagus that has turned up in the West. Ivan's innocence and naivety lead him deeply into the project without questioning the project's motives. When he finally figures out the horrible truth, it's too late to save himself, and more importantly, too late to save Gena. Ivan lashes out at God for allowing him to suffer and causing Gena to die, and dooms himself to an eternity of battle on the wrong side of divinity.

Jacob Isaacs' only daughter, she is a headstrong young woman with fiery passions. When Ivan was first adopted by her family, she didn't much care for the quiet, studious boy. But over time, Gena developed quite an affection for her adopted brother, an affection that her father feared would lead to disaster. When Ivan was sent away to the seminary, Gena vowed never to be happy without him, and kept his room as a time capsule awaiting his return. Gena's love was her undoing, making her the perfect sacrifice to help Father Piestro to bend Ivan's will. But death is only the beginning of the horrors awaiting Gena...

BELIAL

BETHEAL GAVARRE

Father Betheal Gavarre was the most feared of all the judges in the Inquisition, a man so incorruptible that only he could preside over the trial of the renegade crusader Vascar De Guillon. Little did Father Gavarre know that Vascar De Guillon was actually the fallen angel Temozarela in human form, and that the trial would be Father Gavarre's last human act. Temozarela uncovered the chink in Father Gavarre's armor: his devotion to his young charge, Matthew. The angel persuaded Matthew to take his own life. Father Gavarre's fury was so intense that he raged against God, rejecting the deity altogether. Much to Temozarela's dismay, however, Gavarre's anger led to him being transformed into the demon Belial, devoted forever to Temozarela's defeat. Belial trapped the fallen angel in the Domas Porada and remains on guard against his escape – forever.

The head priest of the order of Saint Vertinez, a secret branch of the Vatican which works with autonomy from the Pope. He recruits Ivan to help open the Domas Porada, but this shadowy priest seems to have an agenda of his own...

In a forgotten abbey in the American West, a great evil has remained trapped, hidden from human eyes for hundreds of years...until now. A team of Vatican researchers have discovered the Domas Porada, a sarcophagus that holds the spirit of the fallen angel Temozarela. With the help of frontier priest Ivan Isaacs, they have opened it. Big mistake. Freed from centuries of captivity, Temozarela can at long last begin his desecration of God's Earth, but in his weakened state he needs the help of his unholy apostles. In order to fight back, the dying Ivan must make a pact with the devil Belial for a second chance at life. Ivan only wanted proof of God's existence—what he got instead was eternal damnation.
